Consider filming a video to be included with your Congregational Profile on the NALC website Vacancy List. We invite your call committee to make a 3-5 minute video introducing prospective pastoral candidates to your context and congregation. The video can be informal, explaining what your congregation is seeking in a pastor and showing images of the members of your congregation and your worship environment. Here are some sample videos: Example One, Example Two. These samples were not produced by the NALC. They are both simply examples of the type of content you could include in a video.

NALC - CONGREGATIONAL PROFILE

First St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Burlington, Colorado

Congregation Demographics: Average Worship Attendance

*2017: 84 *2018: 83 *2019: 86 *2020: 59 *2021: 59

Three most significant events

- 1- In the late 1990's there was an attempted merger between First St. Paul's and Immanuel Lutheran in Bethune, Colorado. The merger failed but brought forth our current building and new membership from Immanuel. The new focus on extended community outreach and a larger space to worship brought the congregation together. The new building was also a point of contention with the ELCA. The ELCA fought the congregation during the entire building process and refused to support it in any manner. The building was fully financed by the congregation members and all loans related to the construction were paid off early. One of the purposes of the initial building committee was to open this space to our community and we have actively sought to do that. Red Cross holds their blood drives in our fellowship area. In the early 2000's our local catholic church had a fire and were unable to have services in their building, they used our building until the repairs were made. We have hosted many banquets, fund raising dinners, weddings and funerals for our community as well.
- 2- Leaving the ELCA
- 3- Staying open during COVID and maintaining group involvement and doing so without a pastor since January of 2021.

Describe the nature and extent of any significant current or recent conflict in the congregation. Is this conflict resolved, or ongoing? If resolved, how was it resolved?

There was a general sense of disconnect from the ELCA for many years that seemed to grow more and more each year. A research committee was formed in the fall of 2020 to begin the process of identifying possible new Lutheran Associations to affiliate with. There was a lot of discussion regarding which of the many that are out there best fit with our congregational beliefs and practices. This initial phase was very challenging as we had to navigate between members who wished to leave the ELCA immediately, members who did not wish to leave and a large portion who were unsure and needed the time to process all of the information. As a congregation we were able to come together to decide to begin the process of leaving the ELCA. With this, came the process of meeting with the associations that seemed to best fit with our congregation. This was a difficult process and conversations focused on many issues but several key points became: inerrancy, women's involvement in ministry, local church autonomy and issues related to the LGBTQ policies of the ELCA.

We were able to complete the process as outlined by the ELCA to leave the ELCA and join a new association. The processes of selecting a new association was not without difficulty. Membership was lost due to disagreements throughout the process. Our congregations final vote ended with a tie between NALC and LCMC. As such, we joined both associations.

As a congregation there is still healing to take place after this has all transpired. We are excited for the new possibilities ahead and are hopeful that we will continue to come together with a renewed sense of energy.

Vacancy listing:

First St. Paul's Lutheran Church is a rural church on the eastern plains of Colorado. Our congregation loves God, loves the Church community and loves our community. We invite a mission minded, teaching, loving Pastor to join us as our shepherd to guide us into the immediate future. It is important to us as image-bearers of God to head into the future following where the Lord leads us, willing to do what the Lord asks of us, under the loving shepherding of you, our new Pastor.
