

A HUB WITH SPOKES

NORTH AMERICAN
LUTHERAN SEMINARY

Network Breakdown

The North American Lutheran Seminary is a network of schools operating collaboratively with a shared mission to form pastors and leaders for the North American Lutheran Church (NALC).

As a network, the NALS operates as a hub, centered at the Seminary Center located at Trinity School for Ministry (Ambridge, PA), with partner seminaries serving as spokes. This hub-and-spokes model strikes a harmonious balance, offering seminary education that is tailored to the unique identity of the NALC and its Core Values while remaining accessible to students who may not be able to pursue the traditional residential study path.

The Hub

The NALS Seminary Center operates at Trinity School for Ministry (TSM) as the central hub of the network, providing a comprehensive and transformative educational experience. Students from across the NALS network benefit from completing coursework with dedicated NALS faculty based at the Seminary Center, ensuring a consistent and high-quality theological education.

The Spokes

Our spokes offer seminary education that is tailored to the unique identity of the NALC while remaining accessible to students who may not be able to pursue the traditional residential study path. While residential study at the Seminary Center is recommended as the optimal option, spoke seminaries are highly regarded as valuable educational partners, providing trustworthy alternatives for those unable to relocate.
